This year students have been introduced to our new House system which will play a key part in Drayton Manor's culture and ethos. The House system will establish opportunity for engagement in extra-curricular activities, working with charities and provide leadership opportunities for students of all ages. It will also enable us to teach students the values of Ambition, Character and Civic Virtue.

A new programme of events and activities is to be published every half term which will include sports competitions, debates, baking, art and many others. The House system will also tie into the school calendar and provide activities relating to certain weeks, such as 'resilience week'.

Each House will have a set of House Captains made up of students who display the school's values in everything they do. These students will be responsible for the promotion of the House system and will design and organise whole school events. House Captains will decide on a local charity that the House will support with the aim of students 'knowing' the charity and having a meaningful impact on fundraising and raising awareness.

The end of each term will see a whole school celebration where a number of factors will decide on the awarding of the House cup. These include results from competitions, House attendance, and the students' rewards record.
