

Unit 6 Processing paper and board PLC

Topic Area	RAG Before Taught	RAG After Taught	RAG after Assessment	RAG after revising	RAG after Mocks
Are you aware of the different types of printing processes and their suitability for specific products and scales of production. Specific processes to include:
• flexographic
• offset lithographic printing
• digital printing.
Students should be aware of the ways that paper and board can be shaped into different products such as packaging. Specific process to include:
• die cutting
• laser cutting
• creasing
• bending					